

SUPREME COURT HAS A DECISION

That Makes Several Thousand Of Recent Divorces Throughout Country Void.

IS SWEEPING IN ITS FULL SCOPE

All Decrees Of The South Dakota Type Are Invalid Unless Both Parties To Suit Have Resided In The State.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Washington, D. C., April 17.—A decision was handed down in the United States court yesterday which in its bearing upon divorce laws and marital relations is the most sweeping and important ever enunciated. As Justice Holmes says in a dissenting opinion, it will illegitimize many children and set aside many existing conditions. In its scope and importance too much weight cannot be attached to the decision.

The decision is, briefly, this: No state can dissolve a marriage unless both parties to the divorce suit are residents of the state, and any marriage subsequent to a divorce granted upon an application of this kind is illegal.

This invalidates the divorces of the South Dakota type and makes marriage entered into subsequent to such a divorce illegal.

In its ramifications and widespread interest it is the most important decision ever rendered by the United States supreme court upon this subject. It is interesting to note that this is the second divorce case that has ever come before the United States supreme court. This court in the past has rather held to the opinion that divorces were state matters and not within the purview of the United States supreme court. The first case was rather unimportant and found its way there simply due to the fact that it was an insular case and a question of property was involved.

So far as the parties to the divorce case in this matter are concerned there is no great public interest, but the ruling of the court is of the utmost importance. The opinion in the case was written by Justice White.

His Marriage Illegal
The case is that of John W. Hadcock against Harriet Hadcock, a divorce proceeding instituted in the courts of New York. The decision is in favor of the woman. The Hadocks were married in 1868 and the husband claimed to have been an unwilling participant in the ceremony. He says in his answer to the woman's complaint that he left her immediately after the marriage rites were performed and during all the time that has intervened has seen her only three times.

In 1881 he secured a divorce in the state of Connecticut, where he then resided, and in 1882 was married there to another woman. The New York supreme court held the second marriage ceremony to be illegal, decreed the first wife to be the legal wife and directed Hadcock to pay her an annuity of $750. That finding was sustained by yesterday's decision, which held that Mrs. Hadcock was without the jurisdiction of the Connecticut court.

Four Justices Dissent
Justice White in deciding the case laid down the general principle that a state in which only one party to a divorce proceeding resides has no right to dissolve a marriage tie which all other states must respect. Justices Harlan, Brewer and Brown united in a dissenting opinion, which was delivered by Justice Brown. They took the position that the Connecticut divorce proceeding was regular and is entitled to due credence in other states.

Justice Brown declared in his opinion that the court had taken a backward step in this decision. Justice Holmes also dissented from the decision of the court, but delivered an independent opinion. He said the result of the decision would be to illegitimize many children, but added that he would not go so far as to predict that civilization would come to an end whatever the conclusion in the case.

Justice Day is the youngest member of the United States supreme bench, celebrated his fifty-seventh birthday today. Almost since the date of his appointment to the supreme bench in 1903 there have been rumors of Justice Day's intention to retire. Though he enjoys Washington life, his health never has been the best since he took up his residence here and it is this known fact which has led to the reports of his possible retirement. So far as is known, however, there is no better foundation for the reports now than there was a year ago. It is generally believed that unless his health should suddenly fail, Justice Day will certainly remain on the bench until after the next presidential election, when the question as to whether there is a possibility of a democratic succession will have been determined.

HERESY TRIAL IN EPISCOPAL CHURCH DRAWING UP NEW ISLANDS FOR SALE BY GREAT BRITAIN

Counsel for Defence Is Congressman and Adjournment Will Consequently Be Sought.
[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Batavia, N. Y., April 17.—The ecclesiastical court of the Episcopal diocese of western New York convened here today for the trial of the Rev. Dr. A. S. Crapsey, rector of St. Andrew's Episcopal church, Rochester, on charges of heresy. This is the first heresy trial the Episcopal church has had in years and is attracting attention throughout the country. The charges have been often published, and rest chiefly upon an alleged denial of the doctrine of the divinity of Christ, as held by the Episcopal church. Rev. Dr. Crapsey has retained Congressman J. Brock Perkins to conduct his defense. Owing to Congressman Perkins' duties in Washington at the present time it is possible that he will seek to have the trial adjourned until after the congressional session is over.

Washington, D. C.—"Forewarned is forearmed" and the knowledge that Mr. Edward Morgan, the U. S. Minister at Havana, is consulting with the Cuban officials for the purpose of drawing a new treaty to replace the existing reciprocity treaty is sufficient to arouse considerable interest here, although it will be two years and a half before the present treaty expires. It will be remembered that the treaty now in operation was a sort of a joint affair, being ratified by a bill passed by the House of Representatives as well as by the senate. This was done to avoid the proposition that the senate and President were undertaking to affect the customs laws of the United States without action by the House of Representatives, where all such legislation is supposed to originate.

It will be remembered at that time and when the proposition was under consideration by the Ways and Means Committee that those most familiar with the situation were loud in their expressions of opinion that the United States would get by far the worst of it under the proposed arrangement. Their claims were laughed to scorn and it was demonstrated to the satisfaction of a majority of the members of Congress, or, to put it more correctly, it was sufficiently satisfying to them to give them an excuse to vote for the bill—that the trade of the United States with Cuba would vastly increase and we would get quite as much as we would give. But the claims of the opponents of the treaty have proven to have been better founded than those of its advocates. Cuba's exports nearly all of its products to the United States, but of its imports the farmers and manufacturers of the United States supply but about one-third. In other words, Cuba sells its goods in America and spends the money received therefor in Europe. This one-sided arrangement is not very pleasing to our government. Of course the Cuban government is very well satisfied with the existing conditions, but it has been confronted with the proposition that unless a new treaty is made that will be more favorable to the United States when the present reciprocity convention expires by limitation it will not be renewed, and Cuba will be left to enter our markets as any other foreign country. What this means to Cuba can be readily imagined for while a considerable portion of the benefits of the Cuban reciprocity treaty have undoubtedly been absorbed by combinations of capital in this country, at the same time some of it has gone to the Cuban planters. Deprived of the 20 per cent reduction on sugar and tobacco they would lose this gratuity. Consequently the Cuban government has been practically compelled to meet this country on the proposition to frame a new treaty. Mr. Morgan, it is announced, has now practically completed his work and it is possible that the treaty will be submitted to the senate before the adjournment of the present session. If this is done, however, it will be merely that it may be gotten before

HEAD OF THE JESUITS IS DYING OF CANCER

Father Louis Martin, General Of The Order, Ill At Rome—Much Interest In Election Of Successor.

ROME, April 17.—Though the Jesuits have, as a rule, no place in the Roman Catholic hierarchy, the greatest interest is being manifested just now in Vatican circles and among churchmen generally in the illness of Father Louis Martin, general of the order of the Jesuits. Father Martin is suffering from cancer and his death is believed to be but a matter of a short time. There is some discussion as to his possible successor, but the rules governing the election are such that the result cannot be foretold with the slightest degree of certainty. The general places in a sealed envelope the name of some one who shall direct the affairs of the society during the interim between his death and the election of his successor. Father Anderledy, who died in 1892, named Father Martin, so the latter's election was a tribute not only to his own piety and learning, but to the former's perspicacity in the point of judging men. The general is elected by a convention of three delegates from each province, these delegates being chosen by the older priests. At the convention which elects him are also five nationalities, English, French, German, Italian and Spanish. The general holds office for life. Though nominally a resident of Rome, the general spends most of his time in his quarters in the neighboring town of Fiesole. He is known colloquially as "The Black Pope." This title the ingenious Romans derived from the black habit he wears, and is used in contradistinction to the title of "The White Pope," which is applied to the supreme pontiff, and to that of "The Red Pope," which characterizes the cardinal prefect of the propaganda. It is a significant fact that there never has been a French, English, or Irish Jesuit at the head of the order. Most of them have come from the great old Italian cities. Father Martin is a Spanish theologian, and was born near Burgos in 1846. He entered the Jesuit novitiate at the age of 22, and rapidly acquired a great reputation. In 1878 he was made rector of the University of Salamanca, and eight years later became provincial of the order in Castile. A year ago when his arm was amputated for cancer, the pope, by special indulgence, granted him the privilege of continuing to say mass. Father Martin always has been a great opponent of the Americanization of the Catholic church in the United States, and several years ago he was sued by an Italian editor for alleged services in causing the subversion of the movement.

Washington Minor Items Of News
Roosevelt Urges Congress to Pass an Insurance Law at Present Session.
[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Washington, April 17.—President Roosevelt today transmitted to congress an important message relating to insurance legislation. Accompanying the message were the report and recommendations of the insurance convention which was held in Chicago last February. Among the recommendations is the draft of a bill which congress is urged to enact into a law with such amendments as in its wisdom may suggest. The President urges the enactment of the proposed measure. When the senate met today the house bill providing for the coinage of minor coins was taken up and passed. The bill increases to two hundred thousand dollars the appropriation for the purchase of metal for this coinage. In the house today by a vote of 172 to 27 the house national quarantine bill was substituted for the senate bill. The bill now goes to the conference. The President today sent to the senate the nomination of Frank H. Watson to be United States attorney for the eastern district of Michigan.

MISS WILLS AND MR. CONNORS

evening with a party of friends and looking over the vote, so far as it had been tabulated, began to take a livelier interest in the proceedings when he saw the totals mounting up over the line that had been set for him when the polls were closed. When the completed returns finally showed nearly a hundred and fifty thousand votes for him and his election was assured he was given a small sized ovation by those who gathered around to offer congratulations.

Mr. Smith came in only for a few minutes early in the evening to learn if any of his votes required explanation and then left for home saying he "would know all about it in the morning."

In his hour of defeat, which was really accepted two or three days ago, Mr. Hemmens endeavored himself to all hearts, his rivals among the candidates as well as his friends. His brother's illness forced his absence during nearly all of last week, the most critical time of his campaign, and when he returned he realized that it would be impossible to make up in the short time remaining the votes which Mr. Connors and Mr. Smith had secured.

The foregoing report of the committee appointed to canvass the votes polled in The Gazette diamond contest tells the story of the results of the five weeks' struggle and at the same time it tells a story in figures of a success too complete and unmistakable as to hardly require any further comment on this phase of the campaign.

Promptly on the hour scheduled—eight o'clock last night—the committee formally closed the polls, the ballots and the record were removed to the assembly room in the city hall and then the canvass was begun. The work of counting the votes and tabulating the results proved to be a task of much larger proportions than had been anticipated but it was taken up systematically and what was first passed an all night's session was finally completed before 12 o'clock.

In the presence of the representatives of all the leading candidates the votes were carefully canvassed and reviewed and so thoroughly checked as to leave no doubt that the judges were determined that no question should arise of the fairness or accuracy of their finding. The committee had scarcely organized and begun the count when the first anxious enquiry came in over the telephone as to the results and throughout the rest of the evening the Gazette office was literally besieged by friends of the candidates anxious to hear the latest news from "the front."

At the assembly room when the canvass was in progress a large crowd gathered to witness the final count and while it thinned out somewhat as the hours went by with no hope of an early decision, the majority of those who came remained to the last in many cases to carry the news of victory or defeat to those waiting at home.

It was a remarkable ending of a remarkable contest.

Throughout the last day and in fact beginning on Saturday there were lacking none of the characteristics of the average political campaign and there were many who said that Rock county had never been so generally stirred up on any issue in recent years.

The friends of all the leading candidates were as strenuous in their efforts for their favorites as if the most important office in their gift depended upon it and it is doubtful if the county has ever known a campaign which brought out more unselfish hard work than did that which won the Gazette diamonds for those who are to wear them and the "Old Glories" for those to whom they are to be awarded.

From the time the opening announcement was made five weeks ago it has been a great contest. It seemed to appeal at once to the people all over the county. From the first votes to the last there was a total absence of the frivolous voting which is sometimes indulged in. The voters seemed to enter into it with the kind of spirit which shut out any other consideration than that of helping in all sincerity their favorites to win. The nominations showed this from the outset and it was only a few days old when some one remarked that it was "a grown people's contest," meaning thereby that it was for men and women who had hosts of friends to thank if they were lagged.

In a few days after it was inaugurated it became the leading topic of conversation all over the Gazette field and soon the figures on the total vote were growing so rapidly that estimates usually required revision a few days after they were made.

Then the people took hold of it and made it their own.

It emerged from a Gazette project to a campaign in which every one was showing the deepest interest and the Gazette office became little more than a polling place while it served as custodian of the ballots and records.

While the success of the undertaking was assured almost from the outset, it was not until the registration began to mount into the thousands in a single day that anything so complete was looked for. When this point was reached, however, there was no voting day which did not bring out some new and interesting development and then, turning into the last ten days, it was seen that it was going to surpass the highest expectations.

No doubt the personal popularity of many of those who were placed in nomination was most largely responsible for the great success of the contest, for none were named who did not merit the loyalty displayed all through the strenuous days of the campaign. And it is within the knowledge of the "Gazette" staff that in many cases where a much larger vote was due to the fact that they were helping their friends nearer the top to win.

In congratulating the winners upon their success and those who have failed upon the splendid showing which many of them made, the Gazette cannot overlook its own share of the glory in the outcome—there is enough to go round. When the contest was decided upon it was hoped it would be found to merit the kind co-operation as would fairly indicate public approval of the project. In response the candidates and their friends in Janesville and every town and hamlet throughout Rock county and the Gazette field showed their confidence and good will so generously and spontaneously that no newspaper could but be gratified. From an estimate in the earlier days of the campaign of possibly a hundred thousand votes, the figures were doubled and trebled as the days went by until when the polls closed the success of the undertaking was so complete as to leave no room for doubt as to the place the Gazette occupies in the field.

After all it is the business men and advertisers—the men who send their messages to the reading public in the columns of the Gazette—who will receive the most lasting benefit from the contest just closed.

To them it means more publicity and publicity of the right kind is the very breath of life to the modern business.

ALICE E. MASON.

It was not until this campaign for the Gazette trophies was more than ten days old that Mrs. Mason entered the race, but from the day she first became a factor in the contest she has made a wonderful record. The votes piled up for her so rapidly as the days went by, together with the loyal support of her friends later on, gave her at once a place among the leaders which she never lost.

Mrs. Mason is a Badgerite, but the early days of her girlhood were spent at Hebron, Ill.

For the last thirteen years she has resided in Janesville and she has made an important place for herself in the organizations with which she is affiliated. She is a Royal Neighbor, a Daughter of Rebekah and a member of the Presbyterian church. It is to the first-named organization, however, that Mrs. Mason has rendered the most valuable service along the line of social activity.

To the upbuilding of this organization she has given unselfishly of her time and talent and to every movement designed for its advancement her best efforts are always counted upon in advance. Mrs. Mason is the wife of Mr. T. L. Mason of the firm of Kelly and Mason, the well-known contractors and builders.

JOSEPH M. CONNORS

It is perhaps not too much to say that measured by the standard of long and faithful service to the organizations of which he is a member no man in Rock county could wear the Gazette diamond more worthily and the thousands of votes that were polled for him could not be considered in any other light than a tribute to his personal popularity. He is a product of Janesville. Here he first saw the light of day thirty-eight years ago and here his early education was received. For the past twenty years, and over he has been identified with the Ziegler Clothing Co. and about three years ago he was admitted to the firm. Mr. Connors is Grand Knight of the Knights of Columbus and he has an army of friends in Janesville and everywhere in Rock county who will rejoice at his success in winning the Gazette diamond.

ELLA L. WILLS

Miss Ella Willis, whose friends in Janesville and throughout the county won for her the ladies' diamond, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Willis of Locust street, Janesville, and she is known so well both in her home town and in many of the nearby towns, too, that even the short introduction seems superfluous. She is one of the most active members of the Relief Corps and has served the local corps as president for three terms and she is now its treasurer. For seven years she never missed a meeting; a record of which she may well feel proud. Miss Willis is also a member of the Order of the Eastern Star and she has held the offices of Electa and secretary of her chapter. While the larger portion of Miss Willis' support came from Janesville many of the rural routes came to her help splendidly. So many of the certificate votes which came to her from the rural routes came from friends who organized in her behalf that she could not but be gratified and they were nothing less than a fine testimonial to the esteem in which she is held. Her highest ambition when she entered the race was to win one of the flags for the Grand Army post and corps, but her friends willed it otherwise and voted her instead the beautiful diamond.

ED. O. SMITH

It is doubtful if there is a merchant in Janesville who can claim a larger acquaintance in and around this city than can Ed. O. Smith, who won second honors in the balloting for the Gazette trophies. And that his acquaintances are also his friends was demonstrated every day of the campaign and especially during the closing days when the rural routes began to show up in the returns.

Mr. Smith is a native of Whitewater and came to Janesville thirty years ago. He attended the public schools here and later entered the drug business as clerk for Stearns and Baker, where he remained for seven years. After graduating in pharmacy he embarked in business for himself and in the fifteen years of its existence the Smith Bros' drugstore has become one of the best known business houses in Janesville. Mr. Smith is a member of the Masonic organization and an Odd Fellows, a member of the Can-Ad Fraternity Union. He has been through the chairs of the Encampment and is active in the councils of the Canton.

The friends of many of the leaders will regret the death of Mrs. Spicer, Mrs. Dunwiddie, Miss Conroy and Mrs. Burroughs and of Mr. Hemmens.

THE DREIBUND.

It is possible that the next important political development in Europe will be the dissolution or radical modification of the Triple Alliance which crowned Bismarck's career. In 1881 the Franco-German war was not the hazy reminiscence it is now. Even if ten years had elapsed, there were the very acutely strained relations between France and Germany of 1875 still fresh in the memory. Acting on the theory which has dominated European politics since 1815, the alliance of Germany, Austria and Italy was necessary to safeguard the balance of power.

It looks as if the European newspapers have attached too much importance to this possibility, in a market sense at least. Only the violent disruption of the treaty, finally completed in 1882, and renewed in 1891, 1896, and 1902, could really disturb the European markets. Even the most pessimistic of foreign writers anticipates nothing of this sort. The alliance originally was not an instrument, more binding than the friendly understanding at present existing between England and France. It was in 1887, probably at the instance of Signor Crispien, then the Italian Prime Minister, that the present, offensive and defensive alliance joined by Roumania in 1896, assumed its latest form.

Although there were important clauses directly aimed at France, the alliance was latterly more particularly directed against Russia, so generally feared before the Russo-Japanese war. It is the event of that conflict which has changed so profoundly the political balance in Europe and related conditions all over the world. France has been driven into the arms of Great Britain. Russia is not the terror she was less than three years ago. The relations between Italy and Great Britain have improved where jealousy of France might have been expected to sow distrust on the Italian side. Italy and France have mutually advantageous trade relations of growing importance. It is no new thing for Austria and England to pull together. In his recently published memoirs Sir Horace Rumbold, for some years British ambassador to Vienna, remarks on the fastidious fair tone of both the Austrian people and press during the Boer war.

It will be seen that Germany's two principal allies are detached while no other power has come forward in their place. The charge of mischief-making is very hastily and probably quite unfairly brought against the German Emperor. We must remember that he has largely created the commercial Germany of today. He has brought it to the front rank as a naval power and, still more remarkable, he has kept it out of hot water where the temptation to exercise his armies must to such a man have been really great.

Recent events have resulted in isolating Germany still more completely, but at the same time without uniting the other powers against her in any such threatening form as the Triple Alliance was to France and Russia, separately in the 'eighties or allied in the 'nineties.

THE NEXT GOVERNOR.

The contest for the next governor will be a factional fight within a faction, in which the conservative element of the party will not need to participate. In fact this element it will be satisfied to sit on the fence and see the fun.

It is said that it takes a good man to know when he has had enough. However humiliating the fact may be, it is nevertheless a fact that radicalism has won at every turn of the wheel. Conservative republicanism is not dead in the state and it will yet be a controlling power, but it is temporarily shelved. The talk about an independent ticket in the field this year is idle talk and will amount to nothing. The Gazette voices the sentiment of the republican press of the state in saying that the papers as well as the constituency back of them have had enough of the fight and are satisfied to let nature take its course until radicalism in full swing creates the disgust and distrust which is sure to follow. In the meantime another state campaign is approaching. Senator

La Follette will doubtless attempt to secure the nomination of the ticket headed by Irvine J. Lenroot and his success will depend entirely upon the amount of friction which develops within the ranks of his followers. The fact can not be ignored that Connor, Davidson and McGillivray have always been staunch La Follette supporters and all of them are tainted with his peculiar brand of reform. Just how largely these men are under the Senator's influence at the present time remains to be seen. It is possible that ambition for office may induce them to throw off the yoke and declare independence.

The choice for the conservative votes is at best but the choice of two evils, but it may be possible in making this choice to bring harmony out of chaos and reunite the party on a common sense basis. The contest, as it is now forecast, means Lenroot against the field, with prospects in favor of the field. Lenroot in the executive chair means a continuance of La Folletteism for two years to come. With either of the other candidates it means the same thing in less virulent type. There will be plenty of time to watch the trend of events as they unfold, and to decide what policy should be pursued by the time the campaign is well in hand.

THE TREASURY'S NEW DEPARTMENT.

Secretary Shaw established a new precedent on Saturday in authorizing the sub-treasury of New York to increase treasury deposits with any national bank desiring to import gold, to any amount not exceeding $50,000 to any one bank, these deposits to be returned immediately on the arrival of the shipment. This has helped the banks with deposits amounting to $12,000,000.

The treasury of course will not always be in a position to do this. Occasions must necessarily arise when the treasury is in no position to make deposits with the banks on any terms. The action taken by the secretary accords with the regular practice of the Bank of England and the Bank of France, and has never involved those institutions in any difficulty. The relief to the New York banks is substantial, and the secretary is to be warmly commended for the policy he has adopted. It has the double merit of courage and practical soundness. It is the most important act of his administration.

There was filed today at the register's office a $6,000,000 trust deed issued by the Knickerbocker Ice Co. to the First Trust and Savings bank of Chicago and Emile K. The security is subject to a lien of indenture dated April 1, 1898, to the Chicago Title & Trust Co. and Charles F. Griffin, trustees, securing an issue of $2,500,000 first mortgage five per cent bonds, $2,201,000 of which are still outstanding. The instrument is signed by John S. Field, president, and Wm. A. Walter, secretary, for the Ice Co., and James Forgan, president, and David V. Webster, secretary, of the bank. The Rock county lands are in the S½ of the N½ of Sec. 5, town 2, range 13, east.

PRESS COMMENT.

Meaning Prayer-Books, of Course. Chicago Tribune: Pretty maiden, were there any others like yours at church yesterday?

Suggests Meeting with Netherlands. Milwaukee Sentinel: The "Carnege kiss" is now to the fore. When Andrew meets Olga there will certainly be something doing.

When All Are "Worst." Menasha Record: A correspondent of The Chicago Tribune wants a vote on which is the worst telephone service in that city. Where they are all worst, what help would it be?

Susan B.'s Library. Sheboygan Journal: Nearly 4,000 volumes of the history of woman's suffrage were found in Susan B. Anthony's library. They were so dry that the insurance companies refused to write a policy for them.

Easy to Guess Why. Milwaukee News: It is not a far-fetched conclusion that the anthracite operators will be unable to see any merit in the miners' proposals until the surplus stocks have been sold at scarcity prices.

Now Will Otis Be Quiet? El Paso Herald: Otis Skinner complains that theatregoers leave their brains at home. He might try staging something in which brains would be of use to an audience and see what effect that would have.

"Unbiased" Evidence. Milwaukee Sentinel: It is interesting to see that "sterling republican" newspaper, the Free Press, quoting the old democratic New York Times to prove that two republican senators, Spooner and Knox, were overwhelmed and humiliated by a democratic senator in debate. The organ always prints its evidence from "unbiased" sources.

That procedure is just what all decent people want to see pressed to the uttermost limit, for thus only may a full exposure of that demoralizing guzzling hurrah be obtained. On with the mandamus! Out with the evidence!

Bat-Eyed Pessimism Pays.

El Paso Herald: Mr. Roosevelt deliberately attempts to take the bread out of the capacious mouths of the calamity howlers in the magazines by reminding the public that after all the majority of men, including those in public office, are honest and believe that way. It is true beyond a peradventure, but imagine a man trying to earn a living at magazine space rates proving it. It is bat-eyed, grizzling pessimism that gives lively reading matter.

Sunday a Devil-Beater.

Oshkosh Chronicle: Billy Sunday, the baseball-evangelist, is in Wisconsin or will be soon, and if he comes this way prepare to be converted. It is said that he has the devil beaten in every game worse than Frank Merriwell ever defeated that college he was always queering at the last moment. He gives the red one three balls just to tease him and then puts three strikes close up around his neckband in one, two, three order. A man who can do this can have our order no matter what line he is carrying.

Too Much Talk of Reaction.

Indianapolis News: It strikes us that we are hearing overmuch about the reaction from the period of exposure of official malfeasance, as though it had been something of a mistake. Some papers and persons may have gone to excess in sensational methods. But the exposures exposed and the men criticised deserved criticism. There is grave danger now that we may go much too far in the other direction and so fall of much of the good effect of the work that has been done. It will be a sad day if a false public opinion is ever formed that will prevent the pursuit of corruption; that will cause people to be afraid to attack it.

Trial by Jury Not a Farce.

Fond du Lac Reporter: Rabbi Victor Caro of Milwaukee in a recent address said: "Trial by a jury has been degraded into a contemptible farce. Many parts of our country. Every blockhead, every ignoramus, and every corrupt knave that is permitted to vote can discharge the function of a juror." There is some foundation for the Rabbi's statements, but things are not quite as bad as he paints them. Our jury system can be improved. It has some serious faults, but is hardly a farce. The average jury is not composed of blockheads and knaves, though one may sneak in once in a while. It cannot be denied that a guilty criminal stands a better chance of getting free with a jury trial than he would if his case was to be decided by the judge alone. Clever lawyers can influence a jury of twelve laymen whose sympathies may be appealed to, when the same arguments would have no effect on a judge. The jury system was, originally, designated as a safeguard for the accused. There was a time when the weight of court procedure was opposed to the accused, but at present it is the other way. It is far more difficult now to convict a guilty person than it once was for an innocent person to secure justice.

Common Sense in Exercise.

Baltimore Herald: Exercise in itself is no doubt excellent, but is it well for a sane man to make it a fetish? Does it do a business man any good to swell the muscles of his back by wrestling with a rowing machine or to make his legs as hard as railroad ties by galloping about a country in developing the shins? Does a man who works with his brain gain anything by trying to imitate a hoochie? The notion that the average business man will be benefited by developing the muscles of a stevedore is based on nothing more tangible than wild theorizing. In favor of it is the allegation that physical or brute strength spells health. Against it is the obvious and undoubted fact that millions of men who take no more exercise than their ordinary avocations require live to hale and hearty old age and the further that fact, the average athlete, for all his sinew and vigor, is seldom more healthy than the average desk slave or soft-muscled business man.

ORDER FOURTEEN NEW BRICK CROSSWALKS

By City Council—Washington Street to Be Macadamized—Sewer on Bunker Hill.

Street improvements of one kind and another occupied the attention of the City Fathers for a considerable period last evening. A resolution setting forth the statement that where as it was deemed expedient that Washington street from the north side of West Bluff to the south side of Ravine street should be macadamized and curbed with stone, the street assessment committee would view the premises and assess the benefits and damages was passed.

Brick Crosswalks. The scraper was ordered repaired and the clerk was instructed to buy two carloads of paving brick to be used in part for the construction of crosswalks at the following localities: on Galena street west of Locust street, on Center street east of Locust, on Galena on the west side of Park avenue, on Franklin street on the north side of Oak, on Western avenue on the east side of Linn, on North Main on the north side of First, across Glen street on the east side of Prairie avenue, on the south side of Ravine street across Pearl Terrace, and High streets, on the east side of High across Ravine, on Glen street on the west side of Williams, on Garfield avenue on the north side of Court, on Galena avenue on the south side of Milwaukee avenue.

Grades and Repairs. A quit-claim deed to the city from E. W. Lowell and Clarence Beers for a strip of land sixteen feet wide on Bunker Hill, the same to be used as a waterway, was accepted and the city clerk was instructed to have the same recorded. The city engineer was instructed to prepare and file a sidewalk grade for High street, from Rock to Holmes. E. Kellogg was granted permission to build a four-foot walk in front of lot 8, block 10, Palmer & Sutherland's addition on North street. B. H. Baldwin was granted permission to move a barn from lot 5, block 2, across Linn street to lot 4, block 2, Palmer & Sutherland's addition. The street commissioner was instructed by orders to repair Locust street from S. Pleasant to Holmes; to clean the gutters on the east and west sides of Locust street from Pleasant street to Western avenue; and to repair Armour street and clean the gutters.

Y. P. S. C. E. CONCERT WAS VERY PLEASING

President Daland and Miss Ellen Crandall of Milton College Gave Instrumental Numbers.

Under the auspices of the Y. P. S. C. E. of the Presbyterian congregation, an altogether delightful musical entertainment was given in the church auditorium last evening. President Daland of Milton College pleased the large audience with a number of organ selections, including a wedding march of his own composition, and graciously responded to an encore. Miss Ellen Crandall, leader of the orchestra of Milton College and a graduate of the Boston Conservatory of Music, captivated all listeners with her violin solo, and responded to the demand for an encore with "Swanee River." Miss Wilma Soverhill, a pupil of Miss Crandall, also played several very fine violin selections. Miss Robena Keller, a pupil of Prof. Tomlinson, possesses a voice of great promise, which was used to good advantage in two selections from seventeenth and eighteenth century composers. Miss May Treat's piano solo was beautifully rendered and her work as accompanist, as well as that of Miss Ada Pond, was very much appreciated. Under the direction of Mrs. John G. Rexford favored the two charming vocal selections. The program was followed by an informal reception during the progress of which light refreshments were served by the young ladies of the society. The detail of the musical entertainment was as follows: Grand March (from Aida).... Verdi

FROM EVANSVILLE

"I came to you, Dr. Richards, because they tell me YOU DO NOT HURT," said an Evansville lady the other day in Dr. Richards' dental office.

"I want my teeth filled and I don't want to be hurt. Now, if you hurt me I shall not be able to recommend you to others."

Dr. Richards undertook to do the work painlessly, and when she left for her home she said:

"You are all right, Dr. Richards. I never had a dentist before who did my work so CAREFULLY and so PAINLESSLY."

This little incident is just one of dozens like it occurring daily in his practice.

People seem to appreciate the kind of service he gives them.

He also SAVES you PAIN when you come to pay the bill.

SINE DIE SANS PARTING TEARS

THE 1905-6 COUNCIL ADJOURNED LAST EVENING.

ASSESSOR IN EACH WARD

Provided for by Passage of Ald. Jackman's Ordinance—Junk Dealers' Measure Held Over.

Although it was the farewell meeting of the council for Aldermen Edward C. Baumann, Frank H. Jackman, William A. Murray, and City Attorney Frederick C. Burpee, all of whom have rendered excellent service to the city and their respective wards, no words of farewell were spoken, save the jocular references to the "Down and Out Club" during the recess. After the business had all been transacted, City Clerk Arthur E. Badger read the minutes of the session and Mayor James F. Hutchinson declared the 1905-06 council adjourned sine die.

Routine Business.
The report of the city treasurer was received and filed, and that of the finance committee on bills was favorably passed upon. City Attorney Burpee turned over $25.36, as an unused balance of the sum of $100 appropriated on August 3, 1903, for certain work in connection with his office, together with an accounting of the amount that had been expended, and to him was extended the thanks of the council for his care and economy in the administration of the fund. The bonds of McVicar Bros., F. E. Green, and Charles E. Snyder, plumbers, were found in due form and accepted. The judicial committee asked for and was granted further time for the consideration of a notice of injury filed by Peter Thompson, who claims to have fallen on a defective sidewalk on Caroline street, north of the Glenn street intersection. A sidewalk grade, prepared by the city engineer for the north side of North St. from Cherry to Academy, was received and filed.

New Officers' Bonds Accepted.
The oath of City Treasurer James A. Patters and the bonds and oaths of all of the newly elected officers were found in due form, sureties good, and accepted. There was some discussion over the application of W. H. Monroe, Jr. for permission to operate a lunch wagon on the Corn Exchange square. Alderman Jackman said that although he was much more favorably inclined towards this petition than the one presented by an out-of-town man some time ago, he did not consider it fair to the ten or a dozen restaurants, the owners of which pay taxes on their real estate. Ald. Connell thought that a time limit should be placed on the grant. Ald. Murray said that the wagon wouldn't be on the street. Ald. Merritt said that he understood that the vehicle to be used was the small pop-corn wagon that was formerly located near the Court House park and that it was not the intention to run a full-grown lunch counter. The motion to grant the petition passed, Ald. Jackman voting in the negative.

Problem of Patrol Wagon.
Chairman Fish of the police committee announced that the new patrol wagon was in readiness, and the committee didn't know what to do with it. Any suggestions would be thankfully received. His colleagues facetiously suggested that it be housed in Ald. Fish's barn. Ald. Connell introduced an order, which was passed, instructing the city clerk to have a call issued for sealed proposals for the city printing during the ensuing year. By an order introduced by Ald. Murray and passed, the city engineer was instructed to prepare plans and specifications of the location and size for construction of the sewer, drain, gas, and water service pipes on South and North River streets from Pleasant St. to the north line of the West Side fire station. On motion of Ald. Baumann an order was passed calling for a drinking fountain of the same pattern as the three previously ordered, to be constructed simultaneously with them at the southwest corner of North First and North Bluff streets.

Assessor For Each Ward.
Ald. Jackman called up for its third reading and passage the ordinance providing for appointment of one assessor from each ward before the 24th of the present month. A time limitation will doubtless be imposed on these officers under the new arrangement. Ald. Merritt, of the street assessment committee announced that Charles A. Potter had been appointed superintendent of the stone crusher and recommended that Alexander Bucholz be retained as engineer at a salary of $2.50 a day. The report and recommendations were adopted. The amendment to the junk dealers' ordinance, reducing the license fee for second hand dealers from $15 to $1, etc., was of such an intricate nature that the entire matter was laid over until the next meeting by the mayor's decision on a tie vote.

MRS. SLOAN PASSED AWAY DURING NIGHT

Word was received from Milwaukee last evening announcing the death of Mrs. Celesta S. Sloan, widow of the late Hon. J. C. Sloan, at the residence of her son, Charles I. Sloan, in Milwaukee, after several weeks of intense suffering. Mrs. Sloan was spending the winter with her son at his home in Milwaukee and shortly after New Year's suffered from a severe attack of the grippe, from which she never fully recovered. Pneumonia set in a few days ago and in her weakened physical condition she was unable to rally and passed away shortly after ten o'clock last evening surrounded by her family. Mrs. Sloan was a woman of sterling worth and her many warm friends in Janesville and Madison are shocked to hear of her demise. Mrs. Sloan was a true Christian woman and since her husband's death several years ago has handled the business affairs of his estate personally. For many years she has made her home on her valuable farm east of the city, spending the winters in Florida. In Mrs. Sloan's death Janesville loses another old resident whose place it will be hard to fill. Mrs. Sloan leaves to mourn her loss three sons—H. S. Sloan of Edgerton, Charles I. Sloan of Milwaukee and H. G. Sloan of this city—and a sister, Miss Mary Sears of Clinton. A daughter, Pannie, died several years ago in Madison. The remains will be brought to Janesville for interment, arriving Thursday noon and will be taken immediately to the chapel at Oak Hill cemetery where the services will be held.

IF WE HAVE TO DRILL TO CHINA

Says J. C. Fox, "The St. Paul Railway Company Won't Stop Till They Have a Flowing Well."

"Drill until you have a flowing well," is the order that has been given the drillers who are putting down a shaft for the St. Paul Railway company in this city. The work was started early this spring and has been progressing rapidly until now the hole is more than 1300 feet down. This is past the vein from which the city water supply is drawn, but the ground where the well is situated is much higher than the level at the Water Works and consequently the water cannot be brought to the surface without the use of pumps. The company does not wish to use power for this purpose and are drilling deeper in hopes of finding a flow from some lower vein. "We will drill way to China, if it is necessary," says J. C. Fox, general foreman at the roundhouse.

LOCAL LACONICS

St. Patrick's Court Meetings: St. Patrick's Court No. 218, W. C. O. P., will hereafter meet on the first and third Wednesdays of the month. The first meeting under the new regime will be held tomorrow evening at West Side Odd Fellows' hall.

Druggists Delinquent: By law all druggists must file on or before the third Tuesday in April their liquor registers for the year, giving an account of all liquor sold and for what purposes. Medicinal and mechanical purposes are the only purposes permissible under another law. Only one of the ten drug firms—the Smith Co.—had complied at two o'clock this afternoon.

Fay Wanted Again: Eddie Fay, safe-cracker and one of the greatest living exponents of high-class burglary, who bade adieu to the Rock county jail in a somewhat unceremonious manner some time ago, is wanted again. This time it is for the robbing of the postoffice at Los Angeles, Cal., on Feb. 25. Fay is 28 years of age, 5 feet 8 inches in height, and weighs 155 pounds.

Adjourned for Summer: The Twentieth Century History club held its last session until fall, yesterday, Mrs. J. W. St. John was leader of the meeting.

Secured Special Permit: Fred F. Trafford and Susan B. Austin, both of Beloit, secured a marriage license and a special permit to wed at once, at the courthouse today. They are to depart for New Orleans on their honeymoon trip at once.

For Beating Horse: On complaint of Mrs. Mary K. Peters of the Humane Society, Neil Hagerty was brought in to municipal court this afternoon to answer to the charge of beating a Winslow delivery horse. The case was adjourned until Friday.

HORSES AND PONIES ARE ACCOMPLISHED

And Beautiful Actors—Prof. Crocker's Exhibition Pleased Large Audience.

Horses, ponies, and donkeys, alert, trained to the minute, and evincing an intelligence almost human, delighted the many lovers of dumb animals who assembled at the Myers theatre last evening. After witnessing Prof. Crocker's exhibition the term "dumb animal" is almost an anomaly. For these good friends of many make themselves understood, even if they do not speak. Whether in the school room, the court of justice, or the dance hall, on the parade ground, or behind the fort in battle these equine actors practice through their mimic scenes with real joy in the working. The little Shetland "Midget" captures the redoubt and poses in the red fire with all conscious dignity of a biped war hero doing the heroics in a picture book. The donkey "Judge" plays his part like the first-class comedian that he is. Prof. Crocker has been training horses for 27 years and has taken his exhibition all over Europe and America. He has from 25 to 30 in his "company" all the time. Most of the ponies were picked up in Scotland. A couple of spirited blacks which attract a good deal of attention are of an American strain, but were born in England. The spotted horses were obtained in Russia. The two white horses of which he is immensely fond, have been with him for twenty years. The exhibition is well worth while and there should be good houses during the balance of the Janesville engagement.

SCORE OF DAGOES OUT ON A STRIKE

Were Receiving $1.40 a Day and Wanted $1.50 for Shoveling St. Paul Railway Coal.

Yesterday morning a score of Italian laborers imported from Chicago were set at work shoveling coal in the yards of the St. Paul railway company. This morning they went out on strike and many returned to the Windy City. As usual the bone of contention was wages. The company was paying $1.40 a day for the work and furnishing the laborers sleeping and dining cars and a portion of their food. The laborers asked for a raise of ten cents a day and on failing to receive it put their shovels over their shoulders and were gone.

WOOL MARKET

The wool market the past week has been very quiet. Wools are quoted but no sales worth noticing.

Cloth manufacturers will not load up on so high a range of prices, preferring a hand-to-mouth policy and the growers are asking too high a price level to attract any speculation, and it is very doubtful whether opening prices can be maintained. Most of the dealers are sitting on the fence watching the other fellow to see what course he takes and it is predicted that lower prices will rule at the May sales. Philadelphia is quoted lower; St. Louis very dull; New York some activity in China filings. Chicago quotes markets on grades, but no sales, and at Milwaukee no move is being made.

Janesville People Have Absolute Proof of Deeds at Home.

It's not words, but deeds that prove true merit.

The deeds of Doan's Kidney Pills, for Janesville kidney sufferers, have made their local reputation. Proof lies in the testimony of Janesville people who have been cured to stay cured.

"Since using Doan's Kidney Pills some years ago for kidney troubles and backache I have no hesitation in recommending them to every sufferer I meet. I had used remedy after remedy and tried plaster and did everything I knew of for these complaints, but the trouble grew continually worse, and was fast undermining my general health. About seven years ago I was in a very bad way, and it was at that time that I learned of Doan's Kidney Pills and got a box at the Peoples' Drug Co. and began using them. Good results followed quickly and a continued treatment brought me a complete cure.

I have never had any kidney trouble since I used Doan's Kidney Pills."

COMING ATTRACTIONS

"Story of Reformation."

The "Story of the Reformation" at Myers' Grand Theatre, Thursday and Friday of this week, will be an entertainment of great spectacular beauty.

The evening opens with a march led by seven couples of peasants, who represent the seven Protestant countries of Europe in the order in which the ideas of the Reformation entered those countries. After these come a number of ladies wearing the German colors and carrying the German flag, representing the German states. Next come ladies dressed in white and wearing red, white and blue, and carrying Old Glory, representing the states of the Union. As they march they sing and form many intricate figures. Into the last figure comes Ecclesia (the church) with the uplifted cross and at the close all of the flags salute the cross and entered those countries. After these

IS INTRODUCED WITH LETTERS OF JANITOR

President Plantz of Lawrence University Had Unique Introduction Letters.

When Dr. Samuel Plantz, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Plantz, of 203 Bluff street, arrived in Germany he was introduced with letters given him by the Janitor of Lawrence University of which institution of learning Dr. Plantz is president. It was a rather unique position the President finds himself in, being introduced to the heads of the German universities by letters from the Janitor of his own college.

When Dr. Samuel Plantz was about to go abroad he desired letters to take with him. Paul Seith, the Janitor, immediately responded and supplied the doctor with letters to his mother and friends. These were gladly accepted by the president and used to good advantage while he remained in Germany.

Prominent Student

While Seith is only a Janitor, he is a graduate of two German colleges, one of which Dr. Plantz studied at while away. When a boy the Lawrence Janitor finished at the Royal academy, Berlin, in 1874. In the boiler room at the local college can be found numerous drawings and devices which the graduate Janitor uses in standing on inventions. At the present time he is laboring on a smoke consumer.

An Inventor

For some months he has had patterns of the device, but is trying to perfect it. Among other things which he has invented and sold the patents on are: A dustless chalk eraser, fly-paper holder, combination kitchen and ironing table and safety devices on a step-ladder.

Very Interesting

No member on the Lawrence faculty takes as prominent a part in politics as does the Janitor. While a democrat, he inclines toward socialism. In speaking of his views he said: "I am a socialist, but not a 'red.' I do not believe in strikes. I believe that laboring men should be sent to congress in place of rich men and those who are controlled by trusts. Laboring men should also be in the city council. I believe that the laborer over 60 should be pensioned the same as they are in Germany, where they get from 200 to 500 marks a year."

DRAWING UP NEW CUBAN COMPACT

The senate and the country at large in order that it may be discussed during the coming congressional campaign with a view of action being taken next session. There is no possibility that it will come up for discussion at the present session as it would not only open up a discussion of the tariff and reciprocity issues, both of which are being firmly kept in the background, but would interfere with the progress of the Philippine tariff bill and other measures in which the administration is greatly interested. The treaty will not, of course, be made public until after it has been laid before the senate and the permission of that body to make it public is obtained. Any other course would be very discourteous to the senate.

In framing the new treaty, however, it is semi-officially announced that there have been changes of the utmost importance in the tariff schedules and it is said that in all cases these changes are calculated to increase the advantages now given to American shippers. It is further said that existing rates of duty on goods entering Cuba have been lowered and other amendments have been made that will redound to our advantage.

What has been done with the sugar and tobacco schedules as far as the United States is concerned, is not known, but it is scarcely possible, in view of the vehement protests which such action would arouse, that the duties on these products have been decreased. On the other hand, it is not likely that Cuba would be willing to make a new agreement under which the duty would be increased. When the treaty is submitted to the senate it would seem to be a good time to seek to have it amended, especially with respect to the tobacco schedules.

Meanwhile the Philippine tariff bill is slumbering peacefully in the senate. Senator Lodge has given notice that he will call it up when the discussion on the rate bill is concluded which is likely to be quite soon. Indications point to an agreement on the rate bill within the next two or three weeks, at the latest. The senate has made up its mind that it has to pass some kind of a rate bill and the senators do not wish to stay here all summer. All the appropriation bills are to be yet considered by the senate and both Houses are further behind than they have been for several sessions. It is the general desire to get away as near the 15th of June as possible; before that if it can be possibly done and to do so will require work, even with only the ordinary bills to be considered. The pure food bill will come up in the House shortly and take up considerable time, after which it will be the object of conferences between the two Houses for it is certain they will disagree on very important particulars. There is also likely to be a clash over the railroad rate bill and the statehood bill is still hung up between the two Houses. Consequently the senate is about ready to act upon the rate bill and Senator Lodge will then have an opportunity to test the sense of the senate on the Philippine tariff bill. Were it to depend on republican votes it would fail, but it is possible that he will be able to secure enough support from the democratic senators to offset any defections from the republican side.
